

GMDS- workshop on consumer-centered eHealth services

07.08.2017

Among the very interesting sessions, the project group Consumer Health Informatics of the German Association for Medical Informatics, Biometry and Epidemiology (GMDS) e.V. will organize a workshop on consumer-centered eHealth applications. The workshop will focus on specific needs of different target groups as well as barriers and chances to effectively implement eHealth services.

It will be an interactive session with some introductory presentations and group work sessions with time for discussions. Participants will assume different roles during the workshop and thus move into the situation of different stakeholders. The organizers explicitly seek to involve companies and invite them to actively take part in the workshop.

The GMDS cooperates with many well-known scientific societies worldwide and has more than 1,900 members. In its journal, "GMS Medizinische Informatik, Biometrie und Epidemiologie (MIBE)" the organization publishes current scientific articles in German and English: www.egms.de/en/journals/mibe/index.shtml.

For more information on the eHealth Innovation Days and the workshop, please visit <https://ehealth-innovation.net>

